۹	متن زیر را بخوانید و به سوالات داده شده پاسخ دهید. To be generous you do not have to give away large sums of money or do something really special. Generosity comes from the heart and means giving without asking for anything in return. There are many small ways you can be more generous and make a difference in other people's lives. It's a good idea to try these small acts of generosity from time to time: ⎪ Give someone a gift. ⎪ Give your seat on public transportation to someone who needs it more than you do. ⎪ Give a smile to a stranger. ⎪ Offer to carry someone's groceries or other items for them. ⎪ Donate old clothes toys and household items that you no longer need to a charity. These small acts of kindness can make a big difference in someone's life. They do not take much time, but they do require thoughtfulness and effort. A simple kind word like “You look great today!”, a heartfelt thank you, or a friendly word it makes someone's day. It can make them smile and feel good. This is” the power of kindness.” Such small acts of kindness are the basis of many successful relationships. It is important to remember that small acts of kindness can be just as powerful as large ones. If we all do something kind for others no matter how big or small, the world will be a better place.	4

Sending emails, posting photos, watching online videos, and downloading music may seem harmless, but our online habits have a surprising impact on the environment. The impact of activities on the environment is called "internet pollution." The internet is a large part of our lives. According to some estimates, more than 5 billion people were online in 2022- that's more than 60% of the world population. This number continues to grow rapidly as more people go online every year. This means that, on the one hand, a huge amount of data is processed every day and, on the other hand, more and more devices are connected to the internet. Processing this amount of data and powering all these devices requires a lot of energy. Usually electricity to process data, send it over the internet, and power our devices. A single message each of us posts on social media may not have a huge impact on the environment, but when billions of people do it every day, it does. Or the energy we need to power one small digital device may not be much, but when billions of them are connected to the internet, it adds up quickly. The problem, however, is that we are usually not aware of the impact our online life has on the environment. When we post a video or send an email, we do not really think about how much energy goes into it. We just do it because we want to connect with other people and share information with them. So, the first step to reducing internet pollution is to help people	4
